Here are the answers the questions:

Is NASALSA a 501(c)(3) organization? Yes.

Is there any fundraising conducted at the event? No.

How many people do you expect to be in the audience? 200 law students; ~15 practicing attorneys from the NYC area.

Thank you, (b)(6) Preet should be available to participate on the 18th, but I need to clear this through a few channels before fully committing. I will circle back to you this afternoon with additional questions. Thank you very much!

Best regards,

Hi (b)(6)

I just wanted to follow-up on this e-mail to see what information you need. The conference is on Feb. 18 and the banquet is from 7-9. We were hoping Preet could talk for around 30 minutes during some time in there. The topic would be entirely his discretion. For example, he could discuss his career path, challenges he faced, defining moments, or anything of that nature. We leave the topic up to him.

The location is NYU Law School and I can get you the exact building shortly. Let me know if there's any other information I can provide and if Preet will be available to be the keynote speaker. Thanks so much for your help!

Best,

Preet,

I'm writing on behalf of the North American South Asian Law Students Association to see if you would be interested in being the Keynote Speaker for the 14th Annual NASALSA Conference.

Every year NASALSA hosts a conference attended by around 200 law students from around the country. This year the conference will be at NYU Law School on February 17-18. We typically have an evening banquet on the second night (Feb. 18) which features remarks from a prominent member of our community. This year, we were hoping that you would be interested in doing so. You're one of the most recognized and successful attorneys in our community and highly regarded. I know that you have a very busy schedule but it is our belief that you would be best suited for the address.

If you're interested, please let me know and we can discuss details further.

Best,

(b)(6)
